

The Ercros complex in Tarragona participates in the meeting of Industrial Chemistry training companies

The head of operations at Ercros' Vila-seca II factory, during his presentation.

The Ercros industrial complex in Tarragona (CIT) has taken part in a meeting of training companies for students in the first year of higher education in Industrial Chemistry, an event organised by the Comte de Rius Institute.

Gonzalo Quintilla, head of operations at the Vila-seca II factory, on behalf of the CIT, gave a brief presentation in which he highlighted the training internships on offer, the professional profiles required and the expectations that students can expect to see fulfilled.

After the presentation of each company, the students put them questions. On this occasion, it was Sílvia Padró, CIT training and organisation technician, who provided the answers on behalf of Ercros.

For more information about CIT and other Ercros factories, click here.

Tarragona, 2 February 2024