For yet another year, the Ercros factory in Almussafes has renewed its sponsorship of the women's section of the Almussafes Basketball Club, thus reaffirming its commitment to grassroots sports and the promotion of women's sports in the municipality.

The renewal of the agreement was announced during the official presentation of the club's 2025-2026 season, an event that included the participation of Fernando Burgueño and Xelo Aranda, director and head of industrial relations at the Ercros factory in Almussafes, respectively.

The day also included the solidarity initiative “Baskets against Childhood Cancer”, promoted by the Unoentrecienmil Foundation, which combined sport and solidarity in support of childhood cancer research.
